TRAINING ON FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Language is a means of communication and technology has brought everyone on the globe together. Students pursue their higher studies abroad and graduates may get employment anywhere on the earth. In this modern context, it so happens that anyone from any country can go anywhere one likes and gets settled there. In such case, knowing different languages is always desirable for easy access and better work environment.

Communicating in a foreign language, which acts as a link language or a common language used by a group of people, will certainly enhance work results. It will make an individual versatile, multilingual and employable. Keeping this in view the Department of English is facilitating certificate courses in various languages such as French, German, Spanish, Japanese and Mandarin.

Every year interested students get trained in one or more of these useful languages. Each language has its levels of proficiency. The languages are Japanese, German, Spanish, French, Korean & Mandarin. The trainers from Global languages Solutions, Chennai give 100 hours of training for each level of the language. At the end of the course, an evaluation test was conducted in the language.

The following data gives a bird's eye view of foreign languages training at SVECW.
